MONDAY 14
OCTOBER 2024

Celebrating the 10th Anniversary of the Biblical Museum of Natural History

Can a predatory fish be kosher?
A deadly venomous fish?
Can something from the sea be fleishig?

The Museum's Biblical Feasts have become well-known throughout the world. Held in Israel, New Jersey, and Los Angeles, this signature event generates a huge amount of interest from Jews across the globe, providing guests with an exclusive, sought-after cultural and educational culinary adventure.

The Biblical Feast returns to celebrate the Museum's 10th anniversary in October 2024. Guests will enjoy an evening of surprises together with wine, exotic charcuterie, rare kosher delicacies, and uncommon insights into the world of Torah and wildlife led by Museum Director, Rabbi Dr. Natan Slifkin. Other event amenities include photos with live exotic animals. The event is registration-only, with tickets starting at $360 each. Guests will include Museum patrons and kosher connoisseurs from Israel and abroad.

- High-net worth Museum donors from Israel, the US, and the UK
- English-speaking audience with capacity to invest in exotic, high-end experiences
- Approximately 140 guests
